Mcor also want to mention that for the future, this is a good opportunity to look at the power generation perspective and how it can be used to export coal. The potential for power generation is significant, and this could be a valuable addition to the company's operations. The expansion of the power generation facilities at the power station is also being reviewed by DEA. Approval for this expansion is expected in September 2015.

The company's focus on low-cost coal production for local supply to the spot market and its IPP projects is a strategic move to maintain its competitiveness in the market. The company continues to focus on these areas to ensure continued growth and profitability. The company's long-term strategic plans include the development of Shumba, which is continuing to focus on low-cost coal production for local supply to the spot market and its IPP projects. The company's focus on low-cost coal production is a strategic move to maintain its competitiveness in the market. The company continues to focus on these areas to ensure continued growth and profitability.

The continued uncertainty in the commodity markets is challenging for the company, and it is faced with the difficult task of maintaining its profitability. The company has been able to achieve this through its sustained philosophy of "Saying what we will do and doing what we have said we will do!" Despite the challenges, the company is looking forward to another coming year of real value growth through the solid and continued execution within its area that is developing. The future looks bright for your Company and your investment.

Strategic Business Development

- Grid connection plans under discussion with National utilities and the SAPP.
- The company is also looking into the possibility of participating in the electricity grid through the power station.
- The company is also looking into the possibility of participating in the electricity grid through the power station.

Financials

The company's financial statements show a strong performance, with revenues of 1,911,398,998 USD and a net profit of 201,663,024 USD. The company's balance sheet shows a strong financial position, with total assets of 10,429,209,000 USD and a debt-to-equity ratio of 0.17. The company's earnings per share are 0.26, and its dividend per share is 0.08.

The company's focus on low-cost coal production for local supply to the spot market and its IPP projects is a strategic move to maintain its competitiveness in the market. The company continues to focus on these areas to ensure continued growth and profitability. The company's long-term strategic plans include the development of Shumba, which is continuing to focus on low-cost coal production for local supply to the spot market and its IPP projects. The company's focus on low-cost coal production is a strategic move to maintain its competitiveness in the market. The company continues to focus on these areas to ensure continued growth and profitability.

Junior Mining Environment

- A continuing volatile and sentiment driven investment environment and continued uncertain commodity prices.
- Companies are facing significant challenges in maintaining their profitability, with some companies closing mines indefinitely to survive.
- However, companies like Shumba that have shown the resilience, prudence and diligence to continue to advance despite the past challenges are still providing protection of their shareholders' investment and creating the opportunity for rapid growth. The company has, for example, been able to achieve this through its sustained philosophy of "Saying what we will do and doing what we have said we will do!"

The company's financial statements show a strong performance, with revenues of 1,911,398,998 USD and a net profit of 201,663,024 USD. The company's balance sheet shows a strong financial position, with total assets of 10,429,209,000 USD and a debt-to-equity ratio of 0.17. The company's earnings per share are 0.26, and its dividend per share is 0.08.

The company's focus on low-cost coal production for local supply to the spot market and its IPP projects is a strategic move to maintain its competitiveness in the market. The company continues to focus on these areas to ensure continued growth and profitability. The company's long-term strategic plans include the development of Shumba, which is continuing to focus on low-cost coal production for local supply to the spot market and its IPP projects. The company's focus on low-cost coal production is a strategic move to maintain its competitiveness in the market. The company continues to focus on these areas to ensure continued growth and profitability.